

It's possible because the car can accelerate more slowly than the motorcycle. But the car will have more time to accelerate.